FROM THE AMERICAN PEOPLE

GHSI-II Program Overview

The Global Health Support Initiative-II (GHSI-II), funded by the U.S. Agency for International Development (USAID), provides technical assistance to USAID's Bureau for Global Health, regional bureaus, and overseas missions. Implemented by CAMRIS International in partnership with IAP World Services, GHSI-II provides up to 90 senior program and technical experts to support USAID's global health activities worldwide. GHSI-II recruits, hires, manages, and supports the most highly qualified professionals in such fields as HIV/AIDS, reproductive health, infectious diseases, and maternal and child health. The GHSI-II team is committed to finding the best people to help USAID meet its global health objectives and giving them the support they need to succeed.

Recruitment: GHSI-II works closely with requesting offices and applicants to find the best possible match. Our experienced program management and human resources staff help our clients articulate their recruitment needs and position requirements, use our network of more than 40 public health and international development recruitment sources to find the most highly qualified applicants, and assist with the logistics of interviews and candidate selection.

Employment: Once a candidate has been selected, GHSI-II manages the hiring and on-boarding process, conducting the employee orientation, processing employment and benefits enrollment paperwork, and assisting with the security clearance process. Our new overseas employees are assisted by seasoned logistics professionals in their preparations for living and working overseas. Throughout their employment under GHSI-II, employees receive a competitive benefits package, help with travel arrangements, equipment and supplies, professional development support, and any other assistance needed to enable them to provide the best possible support to USAID's global health activities.

Interested applicants: GHSI-II open positions are posted on all major international health and development recruitment and the CAMRIS International website, www.camris.com.
